

Books

- Are you a good reader? How many books do you read a month/year?
 - What are your reading habits? Where and when do you read? What type of books do you read?
 - Reasons for reading a book. What's your motivation when you decide to read a book? Do you read the blurb, the biographical details or the reviews of a book?
 - How do you read? Paperbooks, hardback or ebooks? Do you take out books from the library? Do you exchange books with your friends?
 - What language do you choose to read in? Do you use books to improve your foreign language acquisition?
 - What's your opinion of audiobooks? Do you listen to them? What's the future of paper books?
 - Family and reading habits. School and reading habits. Who is responsible for children's attitude towards reading?
 - Films and books. What's your opinion on books made into films?
 - Other material that you read and the different devices you use.
- Tell something about a book that.....

1. you couldn't put down.
2. you started but couldn't finished.
3. you decided to read after seeing the film.
4. you think would make a good film.
5. you bought, but never opened.
6. you've read, but can't remember much about it.
7. you were forced to read at school and hated.
8. people are talking about at the moment.
9. you think you ought to have read but you haven't.

USEFUL VOCABULARY

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - depressing - entertaining - fast-moving - gripping - haunting - heavy-going - implausible - intriguing - moving - thought-provoking - a page turner 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - to be engrossed in - to come highly recommended - couldn't put it down - to flick through - to browse - to read something from cover to cover - to be into - to be keen on - I can't stand - It's not my cup of tea - I'm crazy about 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Bedtime reading - main characters - plot - climax - events - fiction - a romantic novel - a detective story - a historical novel - a play - science fiction - a ghost story - short stories - non-fiction - essays - reviews - newspapers, magazines - blurb - best-sellers - chick lit
---	---	--