

A TRIP TO REMEMBER

A: Hi _____! How are you doing?

B: Hi _____! Fine, thanks. And you?

A: Great! Thanks. I was thinking about our next holidays. Have you got any plans yet?

B: Oh, yes. I've been doing some research on the web. What about you?

A: Well, I've found a great place that can be perfect for all of us. Look, why don't we spend our holidays in Lynmouth? It's a picturesque village just four-hour drive from London. You'll love its romantic atmosphere.

B: That sounds perfect but let me tell you what I've found. Imagine going to the biggest holiday resort in Europe.... What do you think about this? Blackpool is just a short flight from here.

A: Ok, that's not a bad choice but I wanted to avoid crowded places and Blackpool is a very touristy town. What about having some relaxing holidays in little old cottages? We could enjoy some peaceful time by the harbour in these cottages that date from 1350. That's an amazing experience.

B: Oh my God! What do you mean? My holidays in a small village in the middle of nowhere and doing nothing. No way! It's boring. I would rather go to Blackpool. There are lots of things to do there, we could visit the pier, go to the amusement park and see the best shows in the country.

A: Well, I haven't said anything about getting bored. There are lots of things to do in Lynmouth. Why don't we hire some bikes and go for a ride or on horseback? The natural surrounding is breathtaking. Lynmouth is famous for its valleys, rivers and moorland. As we both love nature I thought that would be great.

B: That's right, I love nature and doing exercise in the open air but this time I would love to have some fun and some exciting experiences. Did you know that the tallest roller coaster in the world is in Blackpool? We have never been there and it's time to go. I'm crazy about roller coasters and funfairs, you know.

A: I see what you mean, maybe you are right and I should change my mind. I was so excited about Lynmouth. A friend of mine went there last summer and she says that you can eat the best fresh salmon and besides game is their speciality.

B: Don't worry, we could go any other time, it's not so far from here. Blackpool doesn't offer the best cuisine but you can have a wonderful time and eat delicious and cheap fast food.....

A: But what about the accommodation? Where shall we stay?

B: We could book some rooms in a Bed and Breakfast. I've seen one run by a Lancashire landlady where they are well-known for their good and tasty English Breakfast. If we can't get any rooms there, we could try other guest houses in Blackpool because there are loads on offer.

A: Ok, problem solved ! We'll go to Blackpool. Ohh, I must forget the delicious cream teas that are so popular in Lynmouth.

B: Poor you! Don't worry, we'll buy some ice-cream instead. And we'll eat them on the pier watching the fireworks at night!
